

PRESS RELEASE
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

QVC Installs Dr. Myles H. Bader, "The Wizard of Food" into its Hall of Fame

San Diego, CA (MyPal Publishing, LLC) February 14, 2008 -- QVC installed Dr. Myles H. Bader, known as "The Wizard of Food" into its prestigious Hall of Fame. After 15 years of guest appearances selling his products Dr. Bader was recognized for his contributions to the success of his appearances.

Dr. Bader said "It has been a fun and exciting journey. Working with the great people at QVC has been a great experience."

Dr. Bader has been a Best Selling author for over 17 years. He has written numerous books on the secrets of food, household and gardening www.thewizardoffood.com

Years of research and discovery have gone into all of his books. Selling over 5 million books has made him a popular guest on radio and TV talk shows including Oprah, Fox and Friends and many more. His books are full of fun, useful and valuable information that it seems at some point every household needs.

His latest book "The Gardening Wizard's Book of 3,001 Lawn and Garden Secrets" is due out this March 2008. It is jam packed with tips, tricks, shortcuts, and valuable information to help experts as well as the beginning gardeners.

Anyone interested in his books can find more information at www.thewizardoffood.com

Dr. Bader is still an active guest on radio and TV. He has appeared on over 6,500 radio and TV shows. For his schedule go to www.thewizardoffood.com/aboutthewizard.html

One of his best selling books "The Encyclopedia of Kitchen and Cooking Secrets" is in its eighth revision and contains over 20,000 facts and secrets about food. Over 800 pages of unique information more than any other book on the subject. Much comes from the grandmothers and great grandmothers of the past.

Full of information like:

- A quick test to tell the age of an egg
- Find out what changes are coming to your foods and kitchen appliances in the next 5 years
- How to store foods for long periods of time without spoilage
- Thousands of chef's secrets revealed for the first time to the public
- Hundreds of baking secrets that have been handed down through the ages
- Consumer safety facts to safeguard your health

What makes him unique among his peers is that he has always self published his own books. Along with his partner J.Michael Palka, the marketing genius behind MyPal Publishing, LLC, they have created a publishing powerhouse.

Dr. Bader and Mr. Palka have plans in the works for a truly unique digital newsletter that will be launched in March 2008. You can register to receive the premier issue for free.
www.thewizardoffood.com/freeissueoffer.html

Here is what Bonnie Bragg of Nebraska has to say about Dr. Bader's books "I have all of his books and use them constantly for information about food, household and garden. I had a real ant problem and did not want to use toxic chemicals, so I grabbed Dr. Bader's book "Club the Bugs and Scare the Critters" and found a great non-toxic solution. I have been giving his books as gifts for years. Everybody loves them."

Dr. Bader is available for speaking engagements, media interviews and special events.

Contact:

Cindy Belliveau

MyPal Publishing, LLC

1-866-506-9102 Option 2

media@thewizardoffood.com

<http://www.thewizardoffood.com>

###